Greetings

AEN Conference 2003

SAKAMOTO, Takashi
NIME SOKENDAI

e-Japan Strategy Statement

- Improving the Information Literacy of the entire public
- Reinforcing IT Education System at every school level
- Enriching Lifelong Education and Information for every adult

e-Japan Priority Policy Program

March 2001

e-Japan Program 2002 (1)

1. Promotion of widespread use of high-speed and ultra high-speed Internet connections

2. Informatization of education and intensification of personnel training

e-Japan Program 2002 (2)

3. Enrichment of network content
4. Steady promotion in the electronic government and the electronic administration of autonomous bodies
5. Intensification of internationalization

e-Japan Strategy Statement

July, 2003

e-Japan Program 2003

Aug. 2003

Promotion of Distance Education through IT

- e-learning in higher education
- Teacher education by e-learning
- e-learning in Asia

Capacity Building

- IT professionals
- Enhancing International standardization of IT performance skills

Content Production

- Cultivating content creators
- Supporting content production
- Dissemination of digital content
- Consolidation of Infrastructure
- Education on copy right problems

GEM
IMS
MERLOT
ARIADNE

Worldwide network systems for collecting, storing, retrieving & providing digital learning content

Thank you!

Takashi SAKAMOTO, Prof. Dr.
Chairman, AEN Promotion Committee
President, ALIC
Director-General,
National Institute of Multimedia Education